'You can only rely on luck so much because bad luck's waiting for you...you gotta make your own good luck' ~ George Thorogood

'Race esteem is the foundation for self~esteem, without race esteem we cannot have self~esteem. Race esteem is the flower and self~esteem is the mere fragrance of that flower'... Dr. Edward Robinson Jr.
Does that apply to everyone Dr?

'Bullying, revenge? retaliation and side effects of psychotropic medications have been found to be the predominant cause of school violence'... Allison Paolini, School Counseling Assistant Professor. # You don't say?

'What kind of economic, social or political order or orders are most conducive to the well~being of people living under them and what does well~being even mean in this day and age'... Oksana Boyko

Watching the sanctimonious bullshit of Bill and Melinda Gates on Bloomberg as they make pronouncements for the rest of us makes me think they should both be in jail with toilet brushes, and their vast fortune given to the middle class ~ not to the rich and not to those eternally on welfare. Not that they would stoop to it but one of their rebuttals might be that they have brought forth great tools of productivity to the human race through their computer programs, I would say they bought that operating system at a bargain basement price and made dubious improvements along the way in fact they may have hindered productivity through their corrupt business practices and coercive subscription service.

Pastor Swaggart's had a heckuva run despite his problems but his memory's starting to fade, he occasionally forgets words to the songs he's singing and sometimes it seems he can't remember the names of those on his panel... regardless he holds court like an emperor on his throne. # He's still affective and fairly remarkable and advancing 'his' interpretation of the Bible.

Holding rank in the organization and being regular members of Jimmy's panels, the Rosensterns analyze world events especially in the Middle East from their own perspective. Not unique, it is basically the Zionist and fundamentalist Christian view with a twist. They are currently honored guests on Jimmy Swaggart's shows, but I wonder if they will be friends till the bitter end? The entire panel excuses if not applaud everything Israel does, while everything the Arabs do is wrong, evil or suspect at best but when it hits the fan, will Jimmy's version of what awaits the Jewish people affect their relationship and are the Rosensterns truly Christians or simply travelers?

No one deserves more than one spouse... unless they've been particularly bad... 😊

You have to prospect, advertise and ask for the sale. It's a process called marketing and it works better if you do things like make it easy for them to sign up for the sale and target your approach towards the most likely customers.

Does it matter if you're chivalrous cause you understand what they go through, or just because you've been taught to be?

You've worked very hard and own the; actors, studios and theaters ~ now you can determine what we watch... that wouldn't be the worst thing in the world but for your motives.

'The problem with billionaires... people like; warren Buffett or Jeff Bezos or Bill Gates etc, they achieved their wealth at the expense of the common good, they literally threw the country under the bus... America has a very nasty oligarch problem, we need a leader who can deal with the oligarchs'... Max Keiser

My wife and daughter are two of the three most important people in my life. I want to be respectful although sometimes I fail. I don't however want to be censored either and because they are women and I'm a man, sometimes we are at loggerheads.

I value humans more than animals but I trust them less...

◦ Bastion of democracy in the Middle East? No... 'It's' because we're taught ~ from the get go, that we'll go to hell if we don't. A.k.a. the fate of our eternal soul depends on kissing the ring, and doing that is easier than honestly delving into the matter. # history's a mystery and they intend to keep it that way.

Counted $80 for the lawn and set it on the counter. They say money's dirty and suddenly my scalp began to itch him. It's like walking in a dirty bathroom and your nose starts to itch. Germs need to make contact and have tricks up their sleeves. Which reminds me of the fly swatter trick. Flies are smart enough to know what a flyswatter can do, do just having one next to you can dissuade them. Maybe they remember what happened to their friend 'Joe'... skeeters on the other hand are too dumb or just don't care.

When I think about all the wars etc, I Forget about good and evil for a minute...Is God the universe's incredible creature power and the 'devil' His destructive nemesis?

Maybe there's no need to share these secrets cause someday you'll know them anyway.

Cheat on her? Far as I'm concerned it will never happen. That may not be the noblest of reasons but not jeopardizing my kingdom of dirt.

Your eternal soul is the most important thing says Jimmy and I agree but I cannot buy his interpretation. When I hear him call the family out to sing the song about the tomb of Buddha again, referencing his bones being inside I wonder if he's right or wrong? Is there a tomb of Buddha? Out of curiosity I googled it and I believe they say he was cremated... don't wanna call it a charade but on and on it goes ~ artistic license leading to poetic justice.

◦ CS Lewis' ultimatum/proclamation... true or false? I don't know but might it be loosely restated as, the greatest personality cult ever, or God's truth? I still think there might be other possibilities.

'You think about the thousand year kingdom age ~ no sin, there will be some sin there but it will be greatly limited'... Jimmy Swaggart

'In the millennial reign there will be the Saints who are glorified and in them sin will not be an issue but there are nations that are still living in natural bodies and they are still subject to the effects of the fall. Satan would not have any success or very little success if the heart of man wasn't twisted'... Professor? Loren Larson

If and when Jesus literally comes back to rule earth for 1000 years of peace and prosperity, will this require a great deal of hard work by him or will it just miraculously come to pass because 'He is God?' Will all the previously disparate factions cooperate, and will it be a cooperate or else situation?
Does it really matter?

WJBW? (would Jesus be woke?)

And this lazy man philosophy that I've adapted I see laziness even in the most driven people so we can learn from everyone!

There are so many beautiful women in the world and other than that, I guess they're just like everyone else... ☐

Not saying the level of violence is good or justifiable but would say that unfortunately it's about what you'd expect from this crazy species...

◦ Go to your church on Sunday? With all due respect it will have to be on special occasions. I prefer studying religion to being preached at by people, who though dynamic, come from a tradition of banning and burning, instead of discussing and debating... don't matter if it's a fundamentalist pastor, priest or woke minister.

Any who tell peeps how to live and what to believe, tread a slippery slope...

◦ Fine... awaken and share it with others but please ~ don't mandate or impose it.

◦ The religionists would work everyone around them to death to spread their gospel of love, it's just another way they're not much different than anyone else. Their mantra? We're not better than you, just better off which is usually followed by an implied and highly effective ~ join or Face the consequences.

This dovetails into lazy man theory which actually is efficiency theory because sometimes the lazy are the most efficient, as opposed to slave drivers cracking the whip over our heads. # The lazy can be efficiency experts in their own right!

The protestant work ethic may derive its authority from it's proponents desire to spread the gospel ~ that's fine, great and maybe that's the most important thing in the world but being slave drivers' the wrong approach.

We're purpose built to seek the truth but they tell us to believe what they say and seek nothing else. Maybe that's how the divine right of kings BS lasted so long. Not saying we need to know the secrets of the universe but it would be nice to learn a few things.

My loyalty's first and foremost to family, then friends and community then nation. I'm unlikely to take up arms to change situations halfway round the world that I know little about and am fed propaganda about from both sides ~ though I realize there are rare occasions where it's necessary...quite rare thank you George Washington.

Deciding that the 2 x 4 probably is structural on the Pergola I sprayed the carpenter bee as she drilled her hole. Her pesky mate buzzed me and I tried squirting but he was quick and evasive. I don't feel bad about killing bugs when they're damaging our property and think there's an outside chance I'm doing them a favor, I expect no solace from the child, is a dog is a rat crowd.

So the downtrodden may enjoy heaven the most, having suffered here, while the rich and happy who go there may find it not so different than earth.

If Jimmy can have an Expositors Bible where he and his colleagues; analyze, interpret comment and advise, why shouldn't others do the same? They may be more qualified and they may not but they're surely more steeped in the emperor's Nicean version of Christianity. Self educated 'common peeps' have as much right to weigh in on religion as on politics or anything else... such may be the best check against Imperial hubris and spurious claims of divine rights used by kings and religionists to control the masses and enrich themselves.

Is our tradition of embalming and burying the dead much different than the Egyptian's mummifying and entombing theirs? In both cases there seems to be, or have been some hope in bodily resurrection.

Another area in which the Bible and mother nature seem to agree is on nature itself. The Bible places people above beasts but we are to both husband and conquer the natural world. Nature works in a similar way ~ waste not want not, and though there's predation, all eventually succumb and are in a manner of speaking recycled.

Try not to piss off a woman cause though she may cry, she's unlikely to Instinctively men just want to spread their seed far and wide. Instinctively after giving birth, women want their children to thrive. These different biological imperatives lead to a number of differences between the sexes resulting in the battle there of. It doesn't have to be but due to conditions often thrust upon one party or the other, it is. I can speak of things like going to the highest bidder et Cetera at

The debate goes on in state house across the country, should critical race theory and the 1619 agenda be included in the history lessons of our students. I say no because it is overtly biased and advanced by the occupation government and its allies both foreign and domestic. Those topics should be discussed in history classes along with the topics of Asian and African crimes against humanity both of their people and others. It's equally important for students to learn about crimes against humanity in the world today, perpetrated by nations great and small alike.

It doesn't justify lying but there'd be a lot fewer lies if people would just mind their own business ask me no questions I'll tell you no lies 😊

If you roll over for bugs on your deck are you more likely to roll over for tyrants in your government? Not sure but don't wanna take that chance... stand thy ground.

There have been 18,000 tweets that said Hitler might've been right according to Steve Forbes should those be banned I think so but a discussion of the origins of the holocaust should not.

What have been the worst crimes against humanity throughout history ? The Jewish holocaust, African slavery and genocide of Native Americans come to mind and I suppose there are others I missing. I also suppose those who suffered came from traditions that may be said to bear at least some indirect responsibility for their fate, if being vulnerable and unprepared counts and in some cases there may have been actual opportunistic complicity. # don't say that!

If our ancestors who conquered this country are cursing us now, many could care less after all those for evil racist white people weren't they? # Not necessarily but many did wrong.

Some people won't let you rub their tushy less there's an immediate return on investment. 😊 # different strokes for different folks.

I'm guessing the percentage of men who'll fight another man's war for money's, the same as the percentage of women who'll go to bed for it. If true it says something bout our; psyche, hormones or lot in life.

Seems like some things in the Bible that are warnings or threats are similar to what government and kings have said to keep us in line too...

what if anything does that mean? It's a long list and I wonder how good our fearless leaders measure up?

Pressure washed and painted the Pergola and deck and by mixing different and by mixing cans, it cost six bucks and 600 calories. It also cost several wasps their lives and if this one doesn't leave me alone it'll cost him his. In my opinion, and this is an opinion piece, there is the Lord and there is the McLord... one a complex individual and charismatic teacher, perhaps harboring inner conflicts and turmoil, the other semi-hysterical in nature and perhaps the God of the universe.
Both are able to 'inspire' so much passion that followers will ban, burn and kill in His name. # just saying. 🤔

What would our dearly departed think about woke-ism? Don't know, I can only surmise that some would be for and some against...

Why are people left, right, center, woke or deplorable? I don't know but many base it on their understanding of the life and message of Jesus... interpretations of which vary greatly.

Am I for this group or for that group? It depends on what they're for. For example there are certain groups that have a high percentage of members who would subvert the constitution, so I am against them. There are other groups where a high percentage of members support the constitution, I am for them. Both sets of groups can be broken out demographically but since their memberships' support or opposition to things I support is bell shaped, I am not against anyone in particular...

So your ancestors got here on a slave ship and that's far from ideal but at least they got here... it might be considered an accomplishment under the worst of circumstances and a gift to their descendants... but I doubt it.

There are all kinds of things out there that I'm not thrilled about but I can't fight them all and I might not fight any. There's City Hall, demographics, gender and lots of other things... guess I'll just try to hang in there and hopefully make the best of things.

Going back to women being more playful, making them vulnerable to men who are players, I think their version of love is different than ours. It's not profound to cite the old saw that says they give sex for love and we give love for sex...does that have anything to do with monetization of the armies we come to the battle of the sexes with?

The richer we are monetarily, the more we can 'get out of it' and the more we have to loose when everything collapse around us.

Watching some Hispanic looking ditch diggers, who may be illegals. They're paying dues for themselves and their children, keeping wages low for legals and making certain people rich. Our manufacturing base is hollowed but almost sufficient. China's is huge but they're supplying half... I mean 3/4 of the world.

To paraphrase Dr. Jonathan Ward, Americans think the Chinese communist party isn't representative of the Chinese people and that's wrong. Many of the Chinese communist party's ideas especially about nationalism are very popular in China. (I would add some of them are popular here and that's scary.) Dr. Ward says first we need to get our bankers out of China, he specifically mentioned Larry Fink and Jamie Dimon, funding the conversion of Chinese economic power to military power (apt aptronyms for those bankers) ... that's a given but what about Taiwan? Apparently nationalism runs so high in China that many people worship their leaders and government ~ unfortunately the same's happening here.

As I watch 'Afghanistan a journey through Taliban country from France 24 English ~ 729,000 views published June 11 2021 on YouTube, I see little girls in their neighborhood school being brainwashed programs or whatever you wanna call it by the Taliban. The boys are brainwashed too in a separate school and I wonder about our kids in our government schools and our churches... we indoctrinate our young too and there are opposing forces in our country trying to impose their agenda on everyone. Neither side is nearly as extreme as the Taliban...nor are they perfect.

As Americans exit the longest war we've had, I wonder if the drone strikes will continue? In an interview from the Trump era, a young soldier says he was in third grade when the towers fell, now he has a chance to participate in the administration's new strategy to solve this 'complex issue' ~ he didn't call it a problem or a war. Hundreds of miles away, army personnel direct drones to fire on Taliban fighters who they've identified as preparing to attack Afghan government soldiers...there's lingo about avoiding collateral damage.

An American field commander is interviewed flying over Afghanistan, he's been redeployed years after his initial tour of duty. He's tasked with taking out a Taliban command center blown up years ago and asked how does he feel about coming back he says it's surreal but he believes in the mission... he mentions that explosion can be seen on YouTube.

0.00353846153 The percentage of white Africans.

In 1989, there were an estimated 4.6 million white people with European ancestry on the African continent.[1] Most are of Dutch, British, Portuguese, German, and French descent; and to a lesser extent there are also those who descended from Italians, Spaniards, and Greeks.
https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/White_Africans_of_European_ancestry

Africa is the world's second-largest and second-most populous continent, after Asia in both cases. At about 30.3 million km2 (11.7 million square miles) including adjacent islands, it covers 6% of Earth's total surface area and 20% of its land area.[7] With 1.3 billion people[1][2] as of 2018, it accounts for about 16% of the world's human population. Africa's population is the youngest amongst all the continents;[8][9] the median age in 2012 was 19.7, when the worldwide median age was 30.4.[10]

https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/Africa

The new data shows that, by 2019, the white population share declined nearly nine more percentage points, to 60.1%.Jul 1, 2020.
https://www.brookings.edu/research/new-census-data-shows-the-nation-is-diversifying-even-faster-than-predicted/

Growing Diversity in America

As of 2019, here is the current distribution of the U.S. population by race and ethnicity:

• White: 60.1% (Non-Hispanic)

• Hispanic: 18.5%

• Black: 12.2%

• Asian: 5.6%

• Multiple Races: 2.8%

• American Indian/Alaska Native: 0.7%

• Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander: 0.2%

Note that the U.S. totals do not include Puerto Rico.

However, these race and ethnicity projections are expected to change over the coming years. By the year 2060, it's expected that the distribution of Non-Hispanic Whites as a percentage of total population will fall from 60.1% to 44.3% of Americans.

https://www.visualcapitalist.com/visualizing-u-s-population-by-race/

In summary blacks are over 12% of the US population whites are 1/3 of 1% of the African population. In other words there are 36 times more blacks per capita in the US as there are whites in Africa... please check my math and draw your own conclusions.

Re: 'You know what'... can see it happening – can see it not happening.

Fantasy's better than the real thing in many respects... the real thing's won't live up to your dreams and will get you in trouble.

They say it's better to fight over there but if we have massive fire power, our beaches and space may be better. We might avoid the curse of collateral killing of innocents, and if we are truly massively armed and defended, we may eliminate aggressors once and for all, stead of going over there with limited weaponry and quagmiring.

For some of us it's a failed experiment, for others it's fine and dandy so let them have it don't expect or force us to embrace what you're trying to shove down our throats.

Don't know if it's due to your, riots and looting or something else but I think it's wrong to use coercion, cancellation or any of the other Saul Alinsky, BLM/Marxist, Antifa, Soros, Schwab, misguided SJ warriors, OG tactics. When we give into threats and pressure from the violent elements of activists of any ilk, the results are never good.

In a nutshell – we don't want your; teachable moments, moral superiority or anything you're hawking... kindly mind your own business and we'll mind ours.

My take from it; breathing exercises and good nutrition as he points out are good ideas. Very disturbing things 'may' come to pass... or they might not. Let's hope not. There could be violence and/or war against foreign and domestic enemies. One side wins and the other loses but innocents on both sides suffer terribly that is the tragedy of it. Pray aka talk to the man upstairs, hope and we are stronger together

The fallout could be soon or generations away. We may have a woke Chinese style world with Asian bosses. Like it or not the 'immediate' future may be in space because these forces may be too powerful and acceptable to too many peeps.

I'm unwilling to support or foment a genocidal war to 'save' our way of life, which in my opinion is how the sons of darkness are parsing their imperial ambitions. I'd rather leave for a while... and let God sort it out. I doubt he needs me but he can always us know.

While living in the past others innovate and by supporting the billionaire boys club we've made our bed so for a while I reckon we'll lie in it. I don't want to make war and will only use violence in self-defense not to promote someone else's vision of how things should be. If the vast majority chooses Woke-ism, that is how this planet will go - unless God decides otherwise... not man.

Can't imagine peace on earth without supernatural intervention from God himself, and how he would do it, is frightening to contemplate. There are too many greedy, instinctive men and women, fueled by religious and ideological zeal, for peeps to peacefully work things out.

So sons and daughters of darkness vie to woke things out to their advantage.

Is it possible the main dif tween the founding fathers and the competition, is the latter were so busy killing each other, that it took longer to get around to colonization.

If we keep kicking it down the road might it never ever happen? I mean everything from; WWIII, to financial collapse and pandemic.

Late model Hyundai drivers drive as fast as Audi drivers, maybe they're trying to "arrive" at where the Audi drivers already have.

Might there be different moral compass patterns based on DNA as well as on; culture, religion or ideology? Certainly not the professor scolded!

The world is not going to stand still so don't be a troglodyte but neither should you stand for everything.

Funny thing about male and female fantasies they're almost diametrically opposed. 😟

Driving to the farm I see old cars and trucks lined up or scattered haphazardly. I wonder if that's how some peeps measure their wealth? Elsewhere it's; cattle, goats, camels or sheep. 🦙🐑

Sure it's good to be a considerate driver but don't break the rules to be one. An old public service announcement said, 'Drive defensively and watch out for the other guy.' It's still true cause most of us are knuckleheads and driver's ed was a long time ago.

You've probably heard the reports ~ they're pretty good at… But they're a pain in the neck, and so's everyone else. ☐ especially me?

Every once in a while, I like to do something for myself… but they say that's all I ever do.

and they have the 'data' to prove it 😖.

Trying to lose weight? Yes, weigh yourself every day ~ if it's up analyze what you ate yesterday if it's down repeat it.

You may disagree but me thinks we're worth 'it'… 😊

If there's a judgment day does God let us explain, or is it just, 'you screwed up', and if we explain, can we per chance make a case?

Sure, I'll have some splaining to do, so I pray he's in a good mood. From what I hear, he knows everything I've ever thought and done anyway... if that matters.

Won't forget the time, place and line from, looked into 'My Father's Eyes... cause glancing up ~ 'twas what I was did.

The other line from Clapton's song

Is 'he was there with me', and I felt that about Dad at that moment and other times... sometimes I feel that about Cecil Brow

Funny how we get mad at others for doing unto us as we do unto others, or vice versa...

Sometimes I say things I don't mean and get away with it... it's a bit harder when I write them down.

As ruthless as the Taliban is and as horrific as wars have been including ours, the human race deserves to survive because there is more good than evil...

'We' are is imperfect as anyone else but we're also as valuable as anyone else, and therefore worth being... as are you.

Itching, or got a bite? Touch the area, don't scratch it and that might make it go away. If it doesn't, gently stroke the area if that doesn't work, scratch around the bite which is not very good because it still releases histamines but at least you're not breaking a scab which can lead to infection.

I like women who are feisty but not famous...

Guess I mistakenly believe that with fame perhaps should come civility.

can't be both?

George Bush said the terrorists are in dozens of countries and we will bring them to justice, but he doesn't mention the OG who are as well.

They might be less wicked but they could use some straightening out too.

The Taliban rarely says anything sensible but they did mention men's rights. With the OG, men's rights are based on having money to hire lawyers to protect one's fetishes and perversions. # It kind of worked for Cosby but so far not for ~ What's that producers name?

The world and perhaps the universe is awash in differing, opposing and often conflicting world views which proponents strive to preserve or impose on others. Whether based on fear or arrogance, imposing one's beliefs on others is usually messy if not disastrous for those involved.

Can a group of people not be your enemy but be a threat to your survival... yes.

'Hindsight may very well be 20/20, but with that caveat out of the way, some events truly come across as historical in their importance... Maybe it's now Xi Jinping's job to clean up this godawful mess... Western society today is openly ruled by a managerial class. Where kings once claimed a divine right to rule, and the bolsheviks of old claimed a right to rule as messiahs of a future kingdom on this earth (bearing a conspicuously strong resemblance to a very old tradition of messianic christianity with the serial numbers filed off, by the way) the technocrats of today base their claims to lordship not necessarily on the idea of the democratic will of the people, but on the historical inevitability of technocracy as such... Our managerial leaders deserve to rule us, because managerialism as a world ethos is the only means of effecting functional rule in the context of a modern, international, post~national, information driven, knowledge economy, rules~based... well, you probably already know all the familiar buzzwords beloved by this class of people. Kings ruled in the epoch of monarchies, because only kings could rule, or at least so they all claimed. Technocrats rule our post~Soviet era for very much the same reason; they are, according to the legitimating narrative of our age, the only ones that can rule...like the kings of old, our technocrats at one point claimed (and even enjoyed) a form of quasi-magical power in the eyes of their peasantry; a view once commonly shared that they could use the very thing that made them rightful rulers – science, logic, rationality, data – to lay on hands, cure ills, and improve society... It is not just that the elite class is incompetent – even kings could be incompetent without undermining belief in monarchy as a system – it is that they are so grossly, spectacularly incompetent that they walk around among us as living rebuttals of meritocracy itself. It is that their application of managerial logic to whatever field they get their grubby mitts on – from homelessness in California to industrial policy to running a war – makes that thing ten times more expensive and a hundred times more dysfunctional. To make the situation worse, the current elites seem almost serene in their willful destruction of the very fields they rely on for legitimacy. When the "experts" go out of their way to write public letters about how covid supposedly only infects people who hold demonstrations in support of "structural white supremacy", while saying that Black Lives Matter demonstrations pose no risk of spreading the virus further, this amounts to the farmer gleefully salting his own fields to make sure nothing can grow there in the future. How can anyone expect the putative peasants of our social order to "trust the science", when the elites themselves are going out of their way, against all reason and the tenets of basic self-preservation, to make such a belief completely impossible even for those who really, genuinely, still want to believe?... Our fleet is more defensible in our waters than theirs, where hypersonic missiles etc. might take them out.

The hysterical versus historical Jesus... does the former fulfill the Old Testament Law of Moses... or give away the farm... and if he does... what of it?

Human Society has lots of moving parts... it may be asking a great deal to expect things to operate smoothly in this great big world...

We drive along thinking to ourselves, "Dang, I'm good, I did that so well", meanwhile the guy behind us thinks, 'dummy, where'd you learn how to drive?"

Bob and Tom laughs their heads off while BBC report on Afghanistan is juxtaposed against it. It's one heck of a contrast and possibly a warning, a foreboding omen.

"BBC news on NPR supported by viewers like you", which to me means it's a circular, mutual admiration society, presenting the views of those who support it by those beholden to those who support it and to the OG.

Prophets and prognosticators study history and follow the news... but they do even better when they're in with the in crowd... aka elitists who might give them the inside scoop.

Washington said no permanent alliances and that sounds simplistic until you realize that we've told many countries that we've got their backs... too many.

Whether its vaccine proponents saying everyone must be vaccinated, religionists or atheists saying everyone must be 'something', etc. it's wrong and should be resisted, nonviolently if possible... good luck with that.

The occupied gov's determined to rule our lives, bread, circus, 'information', 'science' and fear are their tools.

We're told to comply in the name of public health, societal cooperation, being a good citizen etc. and if we don't, we may face tyranny of the majority who for any number of reasons are on the bandwagon. Some seriously study issues, others just do what they're told or fear repercussions and as their numbers swell, non-compliers become scapegoats and even worse 'deplorables.'

If the the Cayman Islands politicians and banksters aren't a bunch of money laundering sons of bitches I don't know who is. The big smiles they flash should be a warning.

Why floor it or whatever to show off for someone in your rearview mirror unless you're insecure... or a show off.

I want to stay on good terms with my friends and loved ones but they're concerned that I'm not 'following the science' and eventually we could be at odds. So like other peeps whom I wish well, all the best and good health, I stop short of wishing that all their dream come true... which could be problematic for those of us in the minority.

If he didn't shed so much and bark hysterically at UPS, he'd be perfect... may I suggest a summer shave 🐾🐕☐.

Bizarre strange and unfortunate that so much of our efforts in life are directed at 'out maneuvering' those who are competing with us for the same things... Perhaps 'most importantly' financial resources.' This creates conflict with strangers and friends alike.

My intent in championing the very First Commandment is to obey God as I understood Him, and to honor; my recent ancestors, my immediate family and yes myself ~ call that what you will, I have abso~fucking~lutely no apologies, and decry any who would give away the farm. Where is compelling evidence that we're to submit to usurpers, hope or plan for our own extinction, or wish for existence purely in a spiritual realm.

'Be fruitful and multiply'... Genesis 1:28

Don't cower, crumble and die. Waiting for a sunny day's not a viable option, limited cooperation with everyone even adversaries has its place but capitulation does not. There are times when even 'trust but verify' goes out the window to be replaced by 'distrust and verify.' Like a powerful military, MAD, MIC etc. such rather unsavory things may preserve peace and unfortunately are probably necessary cause history shows weakness is never rewarded it's exploited, taken advantage of and punished. # May God keep them out of the wrong hands.

'Mocumentaries... what took you so long? 😊

Who's the occupied government? Everyone cept those adhering to principles of the founding fathers, which means a whole bunch of people and special interest groups, intent on reshaping America in their image and saving you from yourself.

Shmita... Fourth Turning, Great Reset ~ Nostradamus art thou rocking or rolling?

As pundits, experts of all stripes and regular folk prognosticate about what's going to happen next, after America's departure from Afghanistan, I'm reminded of biblical prophecies and the school of thought that some were written after the fact.

Once again; Monday morning quarterbacks, hind~sighters and rearview mirror 'visionaries', hands outstretched, will crawl out of the woodwork claiming to have 'told you so.' # They have bills to pay too 🙃.

'Chair Powell's number one job isn't monetary stability, it's confidence, just don't pull the curtain back'...David Morgan (paraphrased).

Can they kick the can indefinitely what does transitory mean and has 'this' been going on for thousands of years?

Won't say been betrayed but don't know a darn soul who'll keep a secret, or not store it in their back pocket 'just in case'... ipso the Man upstairs ~ only the Man upstairs ☺.

Shouldn't keep secrets anyway 'right... so they say.

The Bible warns against false prophets, and those who pinpoint times for things to happen. It might be cause they knew the track record of those was dismal and often incentivized by self interest. Hi iblical prophets may have received info from the great beyond and/or from studying history and realizing it repeats, rhymes and often stinks up the place.

Will this worldview and these aspirations be; a memory, forgotten, utterly discredited, prevail, or survive as written or in 'some form?' # Dustbin of history?

I hope you don't engage in the battle of the sexes, wish you great luck and may you have no disagreements. 😊👏💞

That being said... on an individual corporate and societal basis – both sides want to run the show.

Seen enough to know that people don't stick to things that's why you need a legal framework and a constitution and peeps who believe in it – and if you don't, they leave or you do to start a new. # Cause there always peeps willing to do dirty deeds dirt cheap.

If you're demanding we change our nature while you retain yours

And change the laws to favor you it's just stupid ~ don't care if you call it social justice or anything else it's stupid… compromise and understand's a different story.

Like waves from the ocean and high~water marks on an inland sea ~ history repeats.

What condition my condition was in

Why do we have to believe exactly what the religionists tell us to? Throughout history, regular folk, 'great peeps' and religious revolutionaries including Jesus questioned the status quo… just asking.

look what happened to them 😊🤔

Slow down ~ whether it's; driving, eating, chopping wood, electricity or sex... it helps to slow down 🐌.

Don't know if America is poised for nothing, Civil War or another revolution. Me thinks there're similarities to both and particularly the latter aka 'supreme leaders', depriving free peeps; liberty and the pursuit of happiness. There's no refuge across the sea, space is years away, and pilgrims probably wouldn't be allowed to leave with dignity property etc.

Striving to be a gentleman and nothing more though I often fail. Getting older and time is short, we owe no one explanations unless court ordered. # then why do you keep explaining? ☺

'Peeps' are great, all they ask for's complete devotion... that's a tough one.

I'll go to the crazy eights but that's where I draw the line... no golf

Can sing my version of 'I Don't Know Who Holds Tomorrow', on the old B&O Trail loud as you want, since everyone's listening to podcasts or music AirPods.

China's 'social credit' system ranks citizens and punishes them with throttled internet speeds and flight bans if the Communist Party deems them untrustworthy

- People can be punished if they drive badly, buy too many video games, or steal.
- It's not yet a unified, nationwide system, but China plans on eventually making it mandatory for everyone.

Israeli Study: Natural Immunity Is 13x Stronger Than Pfizer COVID Shots

AUGUST 27, 2021 By Shawn Fleetwood

A new pre-print Israeli study has found that people with natural immunity to COVID-19 could be 13 times less likely to contract the respiratory virus than those who were solely vaccinated against the disease.

Conducted by researchers at Maccabi

We can be friends or protagonists~ the choice is ours. 😊 # balls in your court 🏀.

I've asked Him to be my savior, been baptized and repent... but I don't understand him the way Constantine demanded. 🙏

How great would it be if men and women were on the same page and got along famously? Instead we often blame each other for our problems and those of the world. Women can say men have run the world and have run it into the ground, men can say it's gotten worse since women who outnumber men, got the vote and have achieved considerable control over the actions of nations great and small.

Ah, the blame game ~ it's nothing new.

While discussing some of the worlds many problems I said 'I just live from snack to snack' as opposed to from 'day to day' and my friend said something like, 'then I feel sorry for you.' I was telling a joke and he was making a good point but that's how some disagreements start.

Which reminds me, the world has so many problems! Not just Covid but nuclear proliferation, hypersonic missiles, vulnerabilities we haven't faced perhaps ever... not to mention climate change etc. etc.

Me thinks we need supernatural intervention to get through this without losing so many of the good things that have come about over the centuries... aka the Man Upstairs.
